GTG is an innovative, growing publisher of learning resources for finance, management and accounting. Formed in 2007, we have quickly established a reputation for producing affordable, user-friendly materials that help students, at whatever stage in their studies to maximise their potential.

Our resources have been accredited with the Gold standard by the Association of Certified Chartered Accountants, the largest, fastest growing accountancy body in the World - every six minutes somebody registers as an ACCA student. ACCA qualified professionals can be found working in all sectors, from large accountancy firms and financial institutions to local government, charities, schools and colleges.

Professional 'P' series

Designed to equip students with the detailed knowledge necessary to become professional accountants. P series titles are bought by students at private colleges, distance learners and by university students where the Professional units are part of their degree studies.

The P series is divided into 6 sections, each comprised of 3 individual resources.

Key strengths

- Covers all learning outcomes from the syllabus
- Easy to remember mind maps at appropriate places
- Diagrams specifically designed to aid memory retention
- Quick quiz and test questions at the end of each chapter
- Simplifies complex issues. The clear accessible language used is popular with a wide variety of students, including those who speak English as a second language

Expiry dates and returns

The ACCA examinations are held twice a year at the start of each term (January and September) and in the run up to the exams in June and December.

We provide regular updates on which editions are due for return and a flexible returns policy. We don't want our book trade partners to be stuck with titles past their sell by date that won't sell – we want you to be able to sell the current, valid editions. It seems only fair, after all...
